Dear Julie,

May we take this opportunity to congratulate you and your staff on the outcome of your recent Ofsted inspection. We are pleased that your school has been graded as a good school.

We were delighted to read in your school report that:

- Your pupils' attendance rates are high because they love coming to your school.
- Your staff are deeply committed to helping pupils achieve their full potential.
- Your teachers ensure that they provide pupils with a broad and balanced curriculum.
- Your pupils feel that bullying is dealt with very well and quickly by staff.
- Your leaders make sure that mental health and well-being are prioritised for staff, pupils and families.
- There are very positive relationships between staff, pupils and families in your community.

This is a major recognition of the school's ethos and approach to teaching, learning and wellbeing. Thank you to you and your colleagues for the commitment, endeavour and professionalism that has brought the school to its current position.

Yours sincerely
